THRIFT MEETING AT NEWPORT.

Purpose of Campaign Is to Impress Thrift, Said Mrs. Lord.

Newport, Oct. 23.—A war savings meeting was held at the Newport house yesterday afternoon when Mrs. D. C. Jones of Waterbury, state manager for Vermont, met chairmen and heads of women's organizations from this section. The meeting was addressed by Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Myra B. Lord of Boston, district director of the bureau of women's organizations.

Mrs. Jones outlined the plan of campaign and told of some of the work accomplished up to this time, giving the names of many prominent people in the state who have given their support to the work. Mrs. Jones has been state manager of war savings for Vermont since Jan. 1 last, and the active campaign she has conducted is keeping Vermont, as last year, among the leading states in the union in per capita sales. During the last three months she has visited a large number of towns and held important meetings. Mrs. Lord has addressed many of these gatherings, as well as meetings in other New England states, and everywhere she has gone great activity in the work has resulted.

In her talk yesterday, Mrs. Lord said that the principal object of the campaign was not to sell thrift stamps but to stamp thrift upon the American people. It took ten years to recover from the Civil war and no one will venture to predict how long it will take to get back to normal conditions now. Thousands of priceless American lives sacrificed and billions of dollars expended during the war are in vain if the lessons of thrift learned during the war are forgotten.

Thrifty people are the backbone of the country. We want to strengthen that backbone. Government securities are the best guarantee against bolshevism you can find anywhere. If a man owns a few shares in the government he is going to do everything possible to protect that government. There are three planks in the platform: Save systematically; invest wisely; spend intelligently.

"Thrift in the home financed the war and thrift in the home is our most potent weapon to-day," said Mrs. Lord. "To save but not to sacrifice, not to discourage spending but to encourage wise spending. We want to get the message to every man, woman and child in the country."

WATTSFIELD

Mrs. D. B. Bisbee went Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Howard to their home in St. Albans for a few days' visit.

Miss Irene Joslin and sisters were in Barre this week.

Mrs. and Mr. Matt Jones of Newton Center, Mass., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jones for a few days.

A. N. Poland, who has been ill for the past three weeks, and confined to the house much of the time, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Frank Smith is working for Mrs. W. E. Jones.

A choral club, under the management of G. M. Ford, has been organized in town, and to include all available singers, who will meet for chorus singing in the town hall every Tuesday evening during the winter.

TRAINED TESTERS NEEDED.

Short Course of Training Offered by State Agricultural College.

There is an increasing need for competent properly trained men and women to test dairy products for cow test associations, advanced registry departments and in creameries and milk plants. Such positions pay from $50 to $80 per month with board and room.

To help prepare men and women for such positions the dairy department of the agricultural college, University of Vermont, is offering a two-week course in testing dairy products, Nov. 10-22. This course is given free of tuition, the only charge made by the university being an incidental fee of $3 to pay in part for materials used by the students. For further information address Prof. H. B. Eganberger, dairy department, Burlington, Vt.

NEITHER SIDE IS CONFIDENT

And Both Are Seeking Support for Final Vote on Treaty

VOTING AMENDMENT DEBATED TO-DAY

And Four Senators Were Scheduled to Deliver Addresses

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24.—The amendment to the league of nations covenant of the peace treaty by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, dealing with the voting strength in the council and assembly, was before the Senate again to-day.

Four senators announced they would deliver speeches on the treaty to-day. They were Senators Gronna, North Dakota, LaFollette, Wisconsin, Reed, Missouri, and Spencer, Missouri.

Indications were that the reservations to the treaty would cause a long drawn out fight on the Senate floor. Neither the Republican nor the Democratic leaders seemed to have absolute control of his following and both forces were laboring to strengthen their ranks for the final vote.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION

Mrs. George W. Wheeler was in Brattleboro Wednesday inspecting the Woman's Relief corps.

Dr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Watson and Dr. and Mrs. Henry M. Larson left on Wednesday by automobile for Morris-town, N. Y., where the doctor will locate for the practice of medicine. Mr. Watson will stopover in New York on business.

Timothy Mack, a former clerk of the Junction house and a former resident of White River Junction for a number of years, but who is now making his home in Seattle, Wash., is visiting old friends in town.

Rev. R. Haseltine is confined to the house with a very hard cold.

Rev. Ozora Davis, D. D., president of the Congregational Theological school, located in Chicago, a former resident of White River Junction, came from Chicago to speak last Sunday at the Sequi centennial celebration of Dartmouth college. Mr. Davis spent his boyhood and young manhood days in White River Junction. He received his education in our public schools and lived here a number of years and at the high school. Mr. Davis spent some time in the German institutions of learning in Germany to complete his education. The older citizens were very much gratified to have the opportunity of visiting with Mr. Davis.

Mrs. Robert Brown and little daughter of Somerville, Mass., are guests at the home of Mrs. Charles Wilson of Fairview terrace.

The many friends of Charles Brown, a former resident of White River Junction, but now of Somerville, Mass., who has been very seriously ill, are glad to know that he is fast recovering and is now able to be out again and to attend to his duties as a baker.

Ruth Elliot, who was convicted in Hartford municipal court on a charge of furnishing intoxicating liquor, has been discharged by the supreme court.

Some of the friends of David A. Elliott of Island Pond have received invitations announcing his marriage to Elizabeth Sarah Jones of that village.

Mrs. H. L. Thornton is spending the week with friends in St. Albans.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Burns have purchased the residence known as the Bill Howe place on Maple street from Walter Dompier.

Miss Edith Seaver, one of the scholars in the high school, whose home is in Quebec, and who is living at the home of Dr. Blanchard, was operated on at the Mary Hitchcock hospital, in Hanover, last Tuesday for appendicitis.

Word has been received here of the marriage of Mrs. Mildred B. Springer, formerly of this place, and Rev. George S. Barber of Globe, Ariz. They will make their future home in California.

The Epworth league of the Methodist church gave a harvest supper in the vestry of the church Wednesday evening. The young people deserve great credit for the delicious and bountiful supper which they served.

Two cases were heard before the commissioners of industries Wednesday at the Junction house. They were Margie Gates vs. A. G. Dewey company, and Mike Petronki vs. National Acme company. John S. Buttle, commissioner of industries for Vermont, and Mrs. Ryland Taisey, official stenographer, were in town Wednesday to attend the hearings on industrial accidents.

Erwin M. Harvey of Montpelier was in town Wednesday for the purpose of being received here of the marriage of Mrs. Mildred B. Springer, formerly of this place, and Rev. George S. Barber of Globe, Ariz. They will make their future home in California.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Seat Sale for "Oh, Lady, Lady" Will Open This Evening.

The management of the opera house wishes to call the attention of local theatregoers to the fact that the advance sale of tickets for the gayest of all Bolton-Dodhouse-Kern musical comedies, "Oh, Lady, Lady," playing here next Monday, Oct. 27, will open this evening. This is several days earlier than the seat sale for ordinary attractions, and is due to the tremendous out of town calls for seats, and the experience of this rollicking joyous play in other cities, where the demand for seats has been so great that the theatres have been sold out in many cases before the company arrived in the city.

The production of "Oh, Lady, Lady," is under personal direction of F. Ray Comstock and William Elliott, and will be presented here just as played during the long runs in New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia.—adv.

WAS EXECUTED FOR BEING SPY

Lenoir Is Third Frenchman to Be Killed for German "Defeatist" Campaign

"HELD INTELLIGENCE WITH THE ENEMY"

Bolo Pasha and M. Duval Already Had Faced Firing Squad

Paris, Oct. 24.—Pierre Lenoir, convicted on a charge of having held intelligence with the enemy, was executed at Sante prison at 7 o'clock this morning.

Pierre Lenoir was the third person to be executed on charges arising out of attempts made by the German agents to conduct a "defeatist" campaign in France in 1915 and 1916. The others who met death as a result of revelations made against them were Bolo Pasha, executed April 17, 1918, and M. Duval, who faced the firing squad July 17, 1918. Both were directors of the Germanophile newspaper Bonnet Rouge.

Lenoir, who as a young man had led an idle and dissolute life, came into public notice early in 1918, when the arrest of Senator Humbert, owner of the Paris Journal, was followed by charges against several men who were alleged to have acted as agents of the Germans in buying the newspaper from M. Humbert. It was shown early in the investigation that Lenoir had paid M. Humbert large sums of money.

Lenoir had received a commission of about $200,000 for his work. The money handed by Lenoir came into France by the way of Switzerland, a German agent named Schoeller, acting for Germany in that country.

Lenoir was doomed to death on May 8, 1919, and, despite, but for efforts were made to gain a commutation of his sentence. He was removed to Sante prison after what appeared to be his last chance for life and vanished, but on Sept. 19, last, when the firing squad was in position and all preparations for his execution had been made, his life was spared for a time in a most dramatic manner.

His attorney asserted that Lenoir could give evidence wanted in the case of Joseph Caillaux, who was yesterday brought before the high court of the French Senate on a charge of "conspiring to bring about a separate and dishonorable peace with Germany." Lenoir was given a searching examination by judicial authorities, but subsequently it was announced that nothing he said before the official would justify a mitigation of the sentence of death passed upon him. An appeal to the court of revision was rejected on Oct. 21.

Mrs. Harriet Curtis was in Montpelier Sunday to visit her brother, who is seriously ill with pneumonia.

---and no one could tell the difference

Wednesday night's audience mystified

Tries Vainly to detect difference between art of famous artists and RECREATIONS by Edison's new phonograph

Those present at the Opera House last night saw Claire Lillian Peteler walk onto the stage. They saw her take her position next to a beautiful cabinet. They saw her lips give voice to the opening lines of Coming Home. Then suddenly her lips were still—but the song kept flowing on.

How came this? They were hearing Miss Peteler's voice, yet Miss Peteler was not singing. The entire audience gasped as it slowly realized that it had been unable to distinguish between Miss Peteler's voice and the RE-CREATION of that voice by the New Edison.

This was the daring test undertaken last night at the Opera House by Thomas A. Edison. He sought to prove that no difference exists between the voice of the living artist and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. The musically cultured of Barre were invited to pass judgment. No test could have been more exacting.

Miss Peteler made comparison after comparison. Sibyl Sanderson Fagan, who appeared jointly with Miss Peteler, also made tests with her whistling selections. The mystified audience tried vainly to catch a difference between the original rendition and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. No one could tell one from the other.

It was a triumph whole and complete for the New Edison.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

The instrument used in last night's Tone-Test is the regular model which sells for $285 (in Canada, $431). It is an exact duplicate of the Laboratory Model which Mr. Edison perfected after spending Three Million Dollars in experiments.

The New Edison alone of all phonographs is capable of sustaining this test. Until Mr. Edison knew it would do so, he regarded his work as unfinished.

Ask someone who was present last night. Learn the amazing truth. Then come in and let us prove it personally to you.
